Aikido
 For nine centuries the defensive art of Aikido has been known as a separate discipline in Japan, but only since World War II has it been taught publicly. Aikido is a method of self-defense which combines Judo, Karate, Kendo, Ju-Jitsu and all other methods of unarmed defense. Because it calls for less body contact and less strength to be effective, Aikido is said to be exceptionally valuable for children and women. Sergeant Gene Combs, owner of the American School of Aikido at 16807 Hawthorne Blvd., Lawndale, learned the art at the Yoshin-kai Institute of Aikido of Tokyo while stationed in Japan. He was the first American to receive the black belt degree in Aikido. His school, the American School of Aikido, offers a three-month course open to children and adults. Tuition for children is $12 a month for two instruction periods a week. For adults the fee is $15 a month for the first month and $12 a month thereafter for two instruction and one practice period a week. Classes are held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings from 5:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. Ed Muldrow and Tom Corzine are instructors in addition to Combs. For further information, call FR 9489.

Unlike a change made on an automobile or bus, any change made on an airplane (more seats for passengers, increase in airspeed, range, etc.) necessitates re-engineering of the frame and often the engine in order to insure the safety of the plane. Western Aero, Inc., 3103 Pacific Coast Hwy., offers a complete engineering service for aircraft conversion and modification. They completely rebuild the plane when necessary. In as little as 20 days, at Western Aero, a plane can be built to fit a customer's individual needs. This aircraft corporation also makes inspections of aircraft according to government specifications for re-licensing. There are eight mechanics on duty who are well qualified to do complete rebuilding, repair or modification on airframe or engine. For the customer's convenience, Western Aero will pick up and deliver aircraft from other airports. In addition to their mechanical services, Western Aero has air taxi, charter and cargo services in single and multi-engine planes. A call to DA 6-7311 will be all you need. Robert L. Johnson, president of Western Aero, Inc., will do everything to insure your satisfaction.

A tender, crisp tortilla filled with savory taco meat, zesty cheese, chopped onions and salad, topped with a mild tomato dressing and garnished with olives—that's famous Tico's Tacos! In addition to this famous taco at Tico's Taco Shop, 3764 Pacific Coast Hwy., WALTERIA, you may want to try one of their other Mexican dishes, such as beef enchiladas, tamales, fried beans, chili beans, or to solve the problem completely, a combination plate which will enable you to enjoy a variety of Mexican favorites on one order. They also serve such old-time American favorites as hamburgers, hot dogs and pie. One dish or complete dinners can be ordered to go. Tico's famous taco meat, frozen, is available at the restaurant. They also offer a home taco-making set. Tico's Taco Shop has been recently redecorated and is large enough to seat 50 persons. There is plenty of free parking in the rear. The Tico's Taco Shops are operated on a franchise basis. The manager of the local shop is Jack O'Reilly. Other Tico's Taco Shops are located in San Clemente, Manhattan Beach, Costa Mesa and Garden Grove. They are open from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. every day except Friday and Saturday, when they are open until 10 p. m.
